<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Parents found the KS1 Maths and Phonics workshop and the EYFS Maths workshop very useful. They felt more confident about supporting their children at home. It also explained some of the language that the children use in their Maths lessons. The practical ideas given in the EYFS workshop reminded parents to use maths in the environment. The slides are on the website. It was suggested that the session could be videoed for parents who were unable to attend. TL was unsure how staff would feel about this but would ask. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> School photos and their quality was discussed. It was noted that the siblings from the junior school are always done first to cause less disruption to the schools but as there were so many this year it did mean that there was less time for our own individual photos. We discussed the possibility of not having junior sibling photos but the consensus among parents present was that they liked the sibling photos We discussed a way of organising these before or after school. TL told the meeting that a new provider had been appointed for the next photo session and we will assess the quality again then. 	TL to canvas parents about sibling photos
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Parking around the school was discussed again. It was noted that parents were parking on the pavement making it difficult for buggies to pass. There were also incidents of cars blocking driveways. It was noted that it is better when the police patrol the area. It was also noted that people are still parking in the small carpark at the Sandringham. TL agreed to remind parents about parking in the next newsletter 	TL to remind parents about parking in next newsletter.
