How to apply for exceptional leave of absence.

An important part of our schools' vision is that our children feel safe, happy, enthusiastic and ready to learn together.

Term Time Absence

The Government has made an amendment to the 2006 regulations on term time absence. Schools are now prohibited from authorising any leave in term time; unless there are exceptional circumstances.

If you need to apply for exceptional leave, you must write and ask for permission from the headteacher of your child's school. Your letter should include the dates your child will be absent from school and note the exceptional circumstance.

At Bromley aim to work with we know

Heath we in partner-parents and that there are sometimes exceptional circumstances which mean absence may be required during term time. Please make an appointment to speak to your child's Headteacher if you have any concerns.

Granting exceptional leave of absence will also be based on the answers to these questions.

Headteachers will consider a number of things alongside the reasons you highlight in your letter before granting exceptional leave of absence, including.

How much education your child has already missed through illness or arriving late?

What learning will your child miss at school?

Your child's level of attainment.

The complete attendance policy is available from the school website if you would like to read it.
